Attention: Mr. Fehrmann

Gentlemen:

There will be shipped to you, from Thomas Warfield, Baltimore, Maryland, or by a bank there, a large package by air express, addressed to you, with instructions to telephone me. The package is to be turned over to me. The reason it was done in this manner was so that the risk of loss would be minimal.

Will you be nice enough to telephone me at MAin 1-7300, Station 329, when it arrives, as I would like to work on a portion of it over the weekend.

There will be additional packages which will come later in the same manner.

I have discussed this matter with the girls in the mail cage.

I will appreciate your cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

ERIC P. NEWMAN

Dear Ben + Tom

I have reviewed the first group of items in the Budder Colonial Auction. There are many lovely pieces as you said and I think the auction should generate a maximum of enthusiasm. You asked me to give you comments to put in the catalogue if I thought you might not have included the information. They were well listed and described by Budder. The little I can add is included in this note.

I am very grateful for the opportunity to see these bills in advance and hope you can send the balance shortly. If I can give you any further data please don't hesitate to ask me.

Benjamin Jacobs signature on #26, 36.

Benjamin Levy signature on #51, one in #53.

Tory counterfeits of Cont Currency are #68, 83, 85, the #50 in #94.

#269 and #270 are out of denominational order.

#431 is out of place as it is 1778 not 1776 (You may be grouping these by denomination)

#462 is out of place as it is 1776 not 1778 (You may be grouping these by denomination)

The following are counterfeits which circulated and are thus most interesting and should be described as important originals: #175, 421, 422, 430, 591, 596, 597, 751, 833.

The following are 19th century copies with printed signatures and should be withdrawn or described as souvenir copies. #701, 704, 706, 707, 709, 710.

I also hope you will send me a galley proof soon^{er} so I can see those which are not send and then I may be able to add other comment.

Thanks for your cooperation

Eric

Dear Tom:

Thank you for your telephone call this morning. The balance of the bills are being sent to you today. I look forward to receiving the balance of the galley proofs so that I can give them a general inspection even though I do not have the bills themselves.

On the second group of bills sent, I have the following suggestions:

Lot 1385. The upper half of this Vermont bill is 2s 6d and the lower half is 1s 3d. In other words, this is a pieced combination of two different bills.

The following bills are counterfeit:

803, 88h, 113h, 1195, 1278, 1280, 1358, 1359 and 1382.

I am amazed at the quantities of bills which Mr. Budde assembled and the care he took to catalogue them. He was, according to what he once told me, trying to determine the rarity by the number of each denomination of each issue, by the use of auction catalogues over a period of 100 years. Did he ever do that? Did he ever have a library and auction catalogues with respect to this type of currency? If so, I would very much like to try to obtain any books, pamphlets, or catalogues which I do not have.

Thank you, again, for sending these bills and I hope I can be more helpful after the galley proofs are on hand. I knew that you did not wish me to keep the bills to check against the galley proofs because you needed the bills for that same purpose.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Tom and Ben:

I certainly want to congratulate you on the fine auction which you held. I for one appreciate the amount of work which went into making it a success, and you were fortunate to have such an efficient team of women to help you.

I enjoyed going over the material and was glad to be of help in getting a few of the items more accurately described.

When your list of prices realized comes out, would you be nice enough to send me three copies.

Kindest personal regards.

Very truly yours,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Tom:

It was nice of you to forward the requests you have concerning two lots I bought at your sale. Both of these were purchased for a friend and I have no duplicates of either of them.

I do not sell notes except at my cash cost. Ordinarily I save all duplicates for exchange.

There is a nice lot of Virginia pieces which I hold for a third party and which are available for sale if you have any requests along those lines.

My kindest personal regards.

Sincerely yours,
